Storage space an issue? No problem. With its recessed spring air valve, it's easy to rapidly inflate and deflate your kayak in less than ten minutes. And it stows neatly inside the included carry bag so you won't need to add an addition onto your house to store a 14-foot-long orange plastic boat!

Transportation to the water? No problem. Deflated it fits easily inside your car, truck, SUV or minivan. No need to purchase a clumsy overhead rack and install it on top of your vehicle where it changes the aerodynamics and lowers your mpg. Plus, it's more secure inside and won't be damaged if you forget and pull in the garage without removing your kayak from the roof. (It happens!)

Just learning to paddle? No problem. With its two inflatable air chambers and inflatable I-beam floor, this kayak is stable and highly buoyant to inspire confidence in those new to this exciting water experience. And with a tandem, it's easy to pair a novice with a more experienced paddler and not have to worry about them drifting apart.

Small budget? No problem! A tandem is almost always less expensive than two solo kayaks. And you get the added social interaction of coordinating your paddling with a partner. Plus, this kayak even comes with two premium paddles so you won't be up a creek without them.

Easy To Set Up

Your new kayak comes ready to go with two large side air chambers and an inflatable I-beam floor that helps insulate you from the water below. To set it up you simply unfold it, inflate it, attach the seats and start paddling. It deflates and folds back up for storage in its own carry bag just as easily. A hand pump is included.

Hull Design

Made from three-layer, heavy-duty reinforced PVC fabric with an integral linear skeg that helps it excel at both nimble maneuvering and sustained tracking, even in windy conditions.

Cockpit

Fully adjustable, removable polyester foam high-back seats are included for supportive paddling and adjustable foot braces let you tailor the fit for your comfort.

Self-bailing holes quickly disperse water that makes its way into the cockpit.

Its high volume bow offers generous storage and affords a drier ride even in rough water. The bow deck bungee cord makes it easy to stash items you need access to quickly. You'll also find comfortable rubber carrying handles at the bow and stern for portaging while inflated.
